

When I was 10, I had a _____Collection.

A personal method to search our collection, based in what interested you when you were 10, and still interests you today. This search may find you down an unexpected and serendipitous path that may inform you how you are still inspired by and delighted by how your personal interests connects you to unexpected connections in our art collection.

When I was 10.

Using the concept of 'collecting', or 'interests' based on Medium, Subject, Color, Form, Line.

Having a collection when you were a child teaches you about control, expertise, becoming responsible, meeting new friends, fostering curiosity and learning about value.